[Special Correspondence of the Union Press.] SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Friday, May 5, 1865. EDS. PRESS: The solemn scene is ended The graudest and most awe-inspiring funeral pageant ever seen upon this broad earth was yesterday brought to a close by depositing in the tomb all that remained on earth of Abraham Lincoln, there to await the final resurrection of the just Having fulfilled his great mission on earth, he has been called to his final reward on high, leaving a nation in tears! Noblest and truest of men, then great Preserver of and truest of men, thon great Preserver of thy Country, farewell, farewell:

The public have been advised, through the newspapers, of all the minute circumstances attending the progress of the remains of our dear President from Washington to Springfield, and I shall confine the confine to Springfield, and I shall confine to Springfield to Springfield, and I shall confine to Springfield to Springfield to Springfield to Spri myself only to a general description of the progress of the Kentucky delegation and of the final scenes in the great pageant. It is well to say here, that, on the entire It is well to say here, that, on the entire route, the delegation, consisting of Govern-or Bramlette, staff, and suite, and Major General Palmer and staff, have been med with unbounded cordiality and hospitality. Our worthy Governor, particularly, has been the cynosure of thousands of eyes, and was one of the chief objects of interest to the people of Indiana and Illinois. The members of the delegation are under many obligations to the citizens of Springfield, opened wide their doors and were most generous in their doors and were most generous in their hospitality. The citizens of Indianapolis and the au-thorities of the State of Indiana made extensive preparations for the soleumities. The city was tastefully and almost universally draped in mourning. Handsome aiches were built in the streets, the State House was magnificent in its decorations, and all that a loyal people could do was done to show their respect for the memory of the great man whose memory was so deeply enshrined in their hearts. At seven o'clock on Sunday morning the funeral train arrived, and with it rain began to fall, which continued with little intermission which continued with little intermission during the entire day. As soon as the remains were deposited in the State House, the people were admitted to take a last look at the face of their fallen chief. Among them are thousands of Sunday school chil-dren, whose young hearts were deeply impressed by the solemn scene. Surely they can never forget it, but will cherish it in their memories to the latest day of their

At 12 o'clock it was announced that the grand procession must be omitted alto-gether, on account of the unpropitious weather. This was a source of the greatest disappointment to all, and strangers from all quarters of the country sympathized with the people in Indianapolis in their re-grets, that after all their pains-taking, the nost brilliant part of the programme must be left out.

The decorations in the State House were of the most elaborate and tasteful character. The remains were deposited under the great dome, which was hung with black alpacea, forming a magnificent can-opy and studded with stars of gold. Superb chandeliers lighted up the mournful scene, and brought vividly to mind that scene, and brought vividly to mind that superb view, the Star Chamber in the Manmoth Cave. The illusion was rendered the more perfect by the strains of a silver band, concealed behind the arras. At the hour of 11 o'clock, P. M., when the coffin was about to be closed, the band played that sublinest of all old familiar music, "Old Huudred." As the echoes reverberated through the great dome, and finally rated through the great dome, and finally died away in the distance, the effect was most thrilling, and many an eye was suffused , with tears. That seene and that music made an impression upon the minds and hearts of the vast concourse of people which time will not efface from their mem-

The funeral train arrived at Chicago during the forenoon of Monday, and the remains were received at Park Place, under a magnificent arch. Of this beautiful specart I shall not attempt a des tion, I can say no more than that it was grand in all its proportions, outlines and decorations, and it was a noble tribute from the citizens of Chicago to the illustrious

Our delegation were left behind at Indianapolis and did not arrive at Chlcago until about daybreak on the morning of Tuesday. We therefore saw nothing of the wast procession which accompanied the remains to the Court House, where they laid in state until Tuesday night, when the cortege left for Springfield.

It is useless to attempt to estimate the number of persons who assembled at various points to pay their respects to the memory of their deceased President. If the estimated number at Indianapolis, one hundred thousand, be correct, there must have been at Chicago a quarter of a million, and at Springfield one hundred thousand. These figures are doubtless exaggerated, but certain it is that no such a vast outpouring of the people has been known in the history of any nation now upon the earth.

The cortege arrived at Springfield on the morning of Wednesday, and the remains were taken to the hall of the House of Representatives in the State House, where the people were permitted to take their last and view of the counterpage of him whom the people were permitted to take their last sad view of the countenance of him whom they cherished so deeply in their hearts. Here Mr. Lincoln was well known, and well beloved. Here he had spent the greater portion of his life. Here he had grown to manhood, and among this people are none who do not delight to honor his memory who have ory, save a few political harpies, who have pursued him with the malignity of ghouls during his life, and are now among the first to shed their hypocritical tears over his grave. As a faithful chronicler of events, in this connection I cannot forbear, in justice to the people of Springfield, of the State of Il-linois, and of the whole country, as I be-lieve, to allude to a circumstance which cast a damper upon their feeling and thwarted their wishes. I will not trust myself to record the impressions left upon my mind while listening to their conversation. To say that they were disappointed, and that the most cherished object of their desires was disregarded is to state the fact. sires was disregarded, is to state the fact in the mildest terms.

The citizens of Springfield, with a noble liberality, had purchased for $50,000 a beau-tiful lot, containing about six acres, cover-ing an entire block, and located but a short distance from the heart of the city, and in full view of the St. Louis, Alton and Chicago railroad. The design was to deposit Mr Lincoln's remains temporarily in a hand-some vault prepared for the purpose, and at some future time to transfer them to a beautiful and commanding spot in the cen-ter of the lot, now covered by a hardsome dwelling, and there to erect to his memory a monument worthy of him and worthy of the people of the whole country. All these noble schemes, so creditable to the people of Springfield, and so dearly cherished by hem were suddenly and summarily overthrown. OuSaturday afternoon a dispatch was received from Hon. Secretary Stanton, iu which he stated that it was the peremptory desire of Mrs. Lincoln that her husband's desire of Mrs. Lincoln that her husband's remains should be deposited in Oak Ridge Cemetery, and in no other place. As a matter of course, this decision could not be disregarded, however distasteful it might be to the feelings and wishes of the people. What was the effect, I shall not attempt to describe. There was in the minds of all a feeling of great disappointment, mingled with another seusation which may be imagined.

Oak Ridge Cemetery is a lovely spot, admirably suited for the purposes to which it has been consecrated, but it is located about two miles from the city, and accessible only by a dirt road. Those who know what the roads over the Western prairies are need not be told how disagreeable they are during a large portion of the year. It is probable that not one in ten thousand of all the strangers who shall hereafter pass through Springfield will ever have the opportunity of visiting the last resting place portunity of visiting the last resting place of Abraham Lincoln. On Thursday, the 4th inst., at about 11 o'clock, the vast procession fell into line and followed the remains to Oak Ridge Cemetery, where the last sad words were said, the last mournful requiem was sung, and the mortal body of our murdered Presileut was deposited in the tomb. The dirges were performed by a choir of about three hundred voices, supported by an excellent silver band. As the procession approached the vault the ear was greeted with the mournful tones of that grand old anthem:

Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb, Take this new treasure to thy trust, And give these sacred r.lies room To slumner in the silent dust. A most impressive prayer was offered by Rev. Albert Hate, of Springfield, after which the choir sang the following dirge:

For our loved, our noble leader, Sleeps his last his dramless sleep-Gene forever, gone forever, Eslleu by a traitor's band; Tho' preserv'd his dearest treasure, Our releem il beloved land. Rest lu peace.

Thre' our night of bloody strungle

This was followed by the reading of a portion of Scripture by Rev. Mr. Miner of Springfield, and of President Lincoln's last naugural address by Rev. Mr. Hubbard, of Spriugfield. Another dirge was then supg, after which Bishop Simpson of Philadelphia delivered an eloquent address which was listened to with great interest

The ceremonies were closed by a few brief remarks, and a short burial service by Rev. Dr. Gurley, and the following funeral hymn, composed by him for the occasion. by the vast audience.

TO THE TUNE OF "DUNDER." Rest, noble Marlyr! rest in peace; Kest with the rue and brave, Who, like thee, fell in freedom's canse, The nation's life to save.

Thy name shall live while time endures, And men shall say of thee, 'He saved his country from its foce, And bade the slave be free.'

These deeds shall be thy monument, Better than brass or stone; They leave thy fame in glory's light, Unrivall'd and alone.

This consecrated spot shall be To Freedom ever dear; And Freedom's some of every race Shall weep and worship here.

The solemn services were closed by a benediction by Dr. Gurley, after which the pro-cession returned to the city and was dis-

Thus has ended the most mournful and mpressive funeral ceremonies ever wited by mortal man. The solemn scenes of the last three weeks can never be effaced from the memories of the nundreds of thousands who have seen the face of the dead President, from Washington to Springfield, nor of the millions to whom the sad privilege was accorded. May God grant that our country may be spared a repetition of such an event, and that peace may soon prevali throughout all our borders.

Mosey to his Troops.—Just before running away, the guerrilla leader, Mosey, issued the following address to his troops:

LOUISVILLE: TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1865.

News of the Day.

The news of the assassination of Presi-The news of the assassination of Fresi-dent Lincoin produced a most profound feeling of grief, indignation and horror in England. Our dispatches this morning furnish some further news by the Hiber-nia. The London Times says nothing can nia. The London Times says nothing can be remembered in political history that has ever drawn forth a more unanimous feeing than the news of Mr. Lincoln's assassination. It says further, that unjust as it believes it to be, the Confederate cause will not escape the dishonor cast upon it by this wanton murder. Mr. Lincoln seems to have been esteemed abroad for the same qualities which so endered him to the people of his own country. Eulogies appeared in nearly aif the London papers. Meetings were being held everywhere to express the sorrow and horror of the people over the deed, and there was everywhere the deepest grief manifested. The Liverpool Post of the 27th ult., had its column rules inverted in token of sorrow.

Arrests of persons charged with being Arrests of persons charged with being concerned in the assassination conspiracy, or suppose to have information concerning it, continue to be made. Most of these arrests are of persons living in the lower counties of Maryiand. Our dispatches report the arrest of Lieuts. W. B. Ruggles and A. R. Bainbridge, returned rebels, and of a Dr. Stewart, to whose house Booth wanted to be taken: who are supposed to know to be taken; who are supposed to know something of the assassination piot.

Gen. Halieck has issued an order that ail persons found in Virginia or North Carolina in arms are to be treated as robbers and outlaws. Persons assisting in organizing guerrilia bands, or in any way abetting organized outlawry, will be arrested and tried by Military Commission, and if found

In a letter from R. A. Blatchford to C. A. Seward, published in the New York Times, the writer says Payne, who attempted to assassinate Secretary Seward, has made a full confession. Payne says the pian was failure because not fully carried out.

Ex-Gov. Aiken has been unconditionally released from arrest by order of the President. It seems there was no just cause for his arrest by the military authorities at Charleston. After that city came into our possession Mr. Aiken promptly avowed his Unionism, and said he had never swerved in his fealty to the national Government.

A special to the Times says the charge upon which the rebei ex-commissioners Ould and flatch was arrested was that of having misappropriated $300,000 sent to re-lieve the sufferings of our soldiers in rebel

The Key West correspondent of the New York Jierald, May 1st, says the rebel ram Stonewali was reported off the coast of Wade Hampton refused to be surrendered with Johnston's army because he knew he would be afterwards held and tried for the murder of a Union man in the late campaign in South Carolina. He killed e soldier with his own sword.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the Dis-trict of Columbia is called for at an early day to express opposition to the restoration of returned rebei officers and citizens to their former position and influence. Governor Morton is makiny every endeavor to have the order of the War De-partment, directing sick and wounded soldiers in hospitals and camps to be mus-tered out, carried into speedy effect. He has sent several communications to Washington on the subject; all of which have been favorably received, and the families and friends of Indiana soldiers may look for the speedy return of their absent and

SLAVERY IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The 23d army corps, as has been announced, is to remain in North Carolina, to be distributed through the State for garrison duty. Major General Schofield is in command of this corps, and is, therefore, in the absence of any other authority in the State, virtually Military Governor. The dispatches yesterday morning annonneed that General Schofield had issued an order informing the people that by virtue of the President's proclamation all negroes in the State are free, and that it will be duty of his army to give force and effect to the emancipation proclamation, if that be necessary, and maintain the freedom of the colored race. North Carolina is not one of the States excepted in the proclamation, and therefore by the effect of that immortal edict of emancipation by the late President slavery no longer legally exists in that State. The order of General Schofield indicates that the proclamation of freedom is to be carried out, and to have its full effect in all the rebeliious States not excepted by its terms. Schofield probably received instructions from Washington as to the policy to be pursued, as his conservative antecedents give little reason to believe that the order was not inspired by a higher authority. The abolition of slavery, therefore, in the unexcepted States and portions tlon of the Constitutional Amendment by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the

States. The immediate adoption of the amendment would be only a coup de grace to the moribund institution. BORDER WARFARE.

By a private letter received by a gentleman in this city from his son, who is stationed with his company at Fort Bascom, New Mexico, we understand that a treaty has been made between the Texans and the Kiowa and Camanche Indians, and that the joint forces of these parties are now threatening the National posts on the borders of New Mexico. If reinforcements are not speedily sent to that quarter, we may expect to hear of bloody resuits, and perhaps at Wednesday Afternoon, Grand Matines for the banean exterminating warfare on the part of the Texan Confederates and their savage alies. The news was brought to the New Mexican forts by escaped Mexican prison-

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL AND RICH-MOND WHIG.

Our compositor inexplicably affixed the date of May 4th to the line ln yesterday's PRESS, crediting to the Richmond Whig 'A True View of the War," &c. As Richthe Whig published in the Union interest JEFFERSON STREET, on the "4th of May," and any thing appearing in it of that date cannot be pronounced as being in the clear interest of the rebellion, and, therefore, any argument based on that assumption is without point and valueless. No other error of a compositor could have produced just this effect, vlz: To refute or nullify the whole argument of the article. As the Journal to which the Whig's article was transferred did not give the date of the Whig's article, and as the whole language of the Whlg's article is such as might have been the language of any rebel arguing for independence on the ground that the two sections could never harmonize while under one government, but might get along very well as two governments, it was fair to infer that that article (the Richmond Whlg's) was written while Richmond | First National Bank of Louisville was the rebel capital, and the "Richmond Whlg" a rebel paper, and hence it was at least injudicious for the Journal to repro duce the article without comment.

Now the common record says Lee's surrender was made to Lieutenant General Grant, and we have never until now known that "an old negro woman," "the sole," or as Artemus Ward would say, the promiscuous "occupant of a marble mansion," had anything to do with it. We presume that the Rev. Mr. Galiaher intended to say: guilty suffer the penalty of death. Gen. Halleck in this order also defines the status of the freedmen. They are to be fice to choose for whom they will work, and agree upon the compensation for their own labor.

Collection of Claims.—A great many of our readers will thank us for directing their attention to the conspicuous advertisement of W. M. Tileston, Washington City. To claim agents, especially, Mr. Tileston's four years familiarity with the routine of the various departments at the national capital, and other advantages of no ordinary character, should induce the no ordinary character, should induce the opening of a correspondence at once. Delays in auditing or adjusting accounts, from oversight in making up; omission of material matter; non-compliance with strict forms; miscarriage of application; ciaims mislaid after filing; shelving of ciaim for back stamp, and the thousand and one items of objection liable to arise in the description. the department, vitiating a claim, are speedily rectified by Mr. Tileston.

NEW MUSIC.—We are indebted to D. P. Faulds for a copy of "O'er the Shorn Fields," ballad by Max Beyer, a beautiful piece. He has also laid upon our table Bob Barkis' (if he is williu) most capital comic song—"I vants to go home." The title page presents a very striking caricature of Louis Napoleon trying to soothe the blubbering boy, Max Max, who "vants to go home, vare de saur kraut grows, and de lager bier lows, &c."-but he wants to go more espe cially because "vat big chap vat lives next to me has vipped ail his foes, and next he vill pitch into me." That's so Max, so you had better travel.

We learn that the "Pioneer Associaof Cincinnatl, numbering 151 persons, are to make an excursion to this city on the mail boat United States. They leave Cincinnati this morning, the invited guests of the steamer, and will be in our city tomorrow morning. It has been suggested that a committee of the Board of Trade meet others of our citizens at the Mayor's office this morning at 8 o'clock, to give the "Pioneers" a reception and welcome.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.-James Pierson, of the Veteran Reserve Corps, was ar-rested in Jeffersonville yesterday for mur-der. The murder was committed under the following circumstances: It seems that the soldiers in the barracks were engaged in a scuffle over some rations, when Pier son spoke to Howard and threatened to put him in guard-house. An altercatisn ensued, when Pierson shot Howard, killing him

The question is decided. Even an nuarried woman may "wear the breeches with impunity. The policeman who arrest-ed Miss Harman in New York for sporting "male continuations," has been dismisse the force, the Chief deciding that a woma has as much right to wear a pair of pants as an overcoat, which every woman wears.

The only case on trial in the Criminal Court yesterday was that of Buck Newton, charged with malicious shooting. The evidence on both sides was heard, and Mr. Wolfe addressed the jury for the de-When the court adjourned until this ROBBERY.-Officers Gillmore and Haii arrested two young men last evening for robbing the grocery of Mr. Reidman, on Preston street, between Chestnut and Gray streets. They were detected in the act by Mrs. Reidman, who called for assistance. A man came to the rescue, but was knocked down by the robbers. The case will be investigated in the Police Court this morning.

Mr. Ton Carey.—Mr. Tom Carey closed his connection with the Louisville Theater yesterday. Mr. Carey, as manager and Treasurer, has been for a long time connected with this popular place of amusement, and has contributed not a little to its successful management. Many of the patrons of the Louisville will regret the retirement

A number of unemployed Generals will be mustered out of the service in a week or two, if they do not take the hint and resign. It is intended to retain only and resign. It is intended to retain only about 15 Major Generals, 60 Brigadiers, and 150 Coloneis. From this we may gather some idea of how large a standing army is contemplated.

We can excuse the superstitlous engerness sometimes exhibited by ignorant persons to possess themselves of a bit of rope with which a man has been hanged, but why an intelligent and loyal lady or geutleman should consider the portrait of the assassin of our President an appropri-ate center-table ornament, is beyond comprehension.

New Music.-"Encore une fois," Polka, Mazourka caracteristique, composee par Lug. A. Bonner. "In my Dear Happy Home," song; words by R. W. Taylor, music by Eug. A. Bonner. Both the above published by D. P. Faulds, 223 Main street.

We would call the attention of our readers to the auction sale of real estate by the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company. The property is very desirable, and good investments can be made. The sale will take place to-morrow.

The Cincinnati and Louisville Mail Company have in contemplation a pleasure trip for the City Fathers of Cincinnati and Louisville, to take place at an early day on the Mail Company's new and splendid steamer, the United States.

city. A boy named William Langdon was run over near the depot in this city, by a car on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad, and his legs cut off. The father sued the Railroad Company to recover damages—the company, we believe, defending ou the ground that the boy was, by his own act and contrary to the well-known orders of the ollicers of the road, in such a position as to be injured. The case was given to the jury on Saturday, and this morning they returned a verdict awarding ten thousand dollars damages to the plaintiff.-[New Albany Ledger.

LOUISVILLE THEATER. - Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a large and fashionable audience greeted Louisville's favorite, Mr. B. McCauley, last night, and we have never seen Richelieu better rendered. Miss Gray's Julia de Mortemar was also a spiendid did piece of acting. Mr. Holland's de Mauprat was carefully and correctly rendered, and the parts sustained by Messrs. Scallan and Krone were excellently well done; in fact the whole play was rendered with a fluish that reminded us of the old times when the jorithrete drawn held. times when the legitlmate drama held the sway, and the Louisville was crowded with ite of our city, who could and did an preciate it. Hamlet will be rendered to-night, with McCauley as Hamlet, and Miss Ada Gray as Ophelia. We hope to see the house crowded nightly this week.

The sudden collapse of the rebellion has thrown a large amount of labor upon the market. If it were not for the high price of every kind of marketlng, much improvement would be manifest in the city. As it is, laborers cannot afford to stay in our city. Every article in the domestic market remains at the former price, while labor has fallen at least fifty per cent. How long this suicidal policy of exhorbitant prices will continue we know not. In the meantime the interests of the city will suffer. city will suffer.

GUERRILLA OUTRAGES .- We learn by letter from Hopkinsville that the notorious outlaw Sypert crossed the Cumberland river at Eddyville on the 1st, and drew a small body of Federals into ambush, wounding some and taking some prisoners. It is stated that he shot the prisoners in cold blood, and horribly disfigured them by burning their faces with powder. Sypert and his gang were expected in Hopkinsville on Saturday night, but did not make their appearance. Great excitement prevailed in the neighborhood of Hopkinsville, and business was suspended. siness was suspended.

MAIL ROBBED.—The Glasgow mail, en route for this city, was robbed Saturday near Cave City, by two men who stopped the coach, presenting their pistols at the driver and passengers. They robbed the passengers of their watches and money and also policy and wall have and rode of also robbed the mail bags and rode off, REBEL DESERTERS .- Forty-six deserters from the rebel army were received at the Military Prison on Broadway yesterday from Nashville, and furnished transportation to points north of the Ohio, after sub-scribing to the amnesty oath.

Further by the Hibernia. New York, May 8.—The London Times of the 27th says: This evening it may be expected that the leaders of great parties. in the House of Commons will take the op-portunity of expressing, in the name of the nation, the horror which is felt at the crime, and of assuring the American people that whatever difference of opinion may exist in this country as to the present war, there is but one feeling of sympathy with them at the loss of an honest and high-minded

The News then continues: We will not, without further and overwhelming proof, lay the charge of this horrible conspiracy to the leaders or abettors of the South.

The Star pays a warm tribute to Mr. of peace, in spite of all provocations, to-wards England. It also expresses a confidence that the North, even in its hour of just indignation, will bear itself with that mag nanimity and clemency, which thus far has attended its trlumph.

Governor Bramiette's Staff and Sulte. Governor Bramlette's Staff and Suite-[From the Indianapolls Journal, May 8.] Governor Bramlette, of Keutucky, ac-companied by his staff and a large number of prominent and distinguished gentlemen from the State, joined the funeral cortege of the late President in this city, and accom-panied the remains via Chicago to their finai esting place at Springfield, Illinols. We vere thrown in contact ' men more or less for several days, and were gratified to find them so unwavering in their devotion to the Government, and determined in their support of the adminis tration. A large number of them had served with distinction in the Union armies, had suffered much from the rebellion, had lost largely from the impressment of their slaves; yet no more devoted patriots, or firmer adherents to our cause, can be found in the country. All with whom we conversed were euthusiastically in favor of the constitutional amendment for the abo-lition of slavery throughout the land. Upon our return to Iudiana, we were detained for a short time at Lafayette, where they became the guests of the State, and were tendered, through Gov. Morton's staff, by Governor Lanc, the hospitalities of the State. In reply to Governor Lane's speech, Governor Braunlette said that he accepted the compliment tendered—not as personal to himself, but to the State he had the honor to represent, and accepted it as such. Kento represent, and accepted it as such. Kentucky had had many occasions to attest the friendship of Indiana during the dark hours, when she was presided over by a traitor Governor—and had never failed to receive promptly all the aid she asked. He had stood shoulder to shoulder with Indiana soldiers in the field. Both were actuated by the same spirit of patriotism and kindred memories, their blood had mingled together on the field of battle, and if his affection for the people of Indiana was Philadelphia, May 8.—Jay Cooke reports subscriptions to the 7-20's to-day at the country, it was because he felt as if they owed Indiana a debt of gratitude. He rejoiced that the rebellion was so near crushed, and hoped that hereafter the Government, would be so administered as to crushed, and hoped that hereafter the Government would be so administered as to prevent a recurrence of the scene through which we had just passed. There was nothing that stood in the way of the Union which should not be swept from the face of the earth. There was not a traitor who was not a hater of the Father of his Country. He had higher hopes for the future, and again thanked the Indianans for the hoper conferred by them. &c. There were honor conferred by them, &c. There were many good points in the Governor's speech, Trial of the Assassins. NEW YORK, May 8 .- The Tribune's Washngton special says it is understood that heridan is to be president of the assassintion court martial.

Arrangements are being made to pay all the troops which rendezvous about Washington prior to mustering out. The force ington prior to mustering out. The toree to be kept in the service is not to exceed one inudred and fifty thousand, and these will be mostly colored troops. The reorganized army will consist of four corps of forty thousand each, one of regulars, one of white vounteers, and two of colored. Each will have its cavalry, artillery, and infentry in proper proportion.

The third and fifth corps were reviewed in Richmond on Saturday, preparatory to marching to Washington.

It appears that letters addressed to civil-Richmond are detained in Wash ngtou, and a large number have accumu there. Herald's North-Carolina letters give ous rumors as to the whereabouts of Davis; but none later or more definite Jeff Davis; but none later or more definite than the last, which presumed him in flight and one day ahead of Stoneman. The report that he was obliged to abandon his specie train is coutradicted.

The Herald's correspondent gives further details of the surrender of Johnston. Over hirty thousand men were surrendered. A arge unmber of them did not wait for their paroles, but started off as soon as they earned of the capitulation, and are now ngaged in pillaging and robbing the destitute people. Over one hundred pieces of ar-nillery were surrendered. Among the offirs surrendered is the notorious Semmes, the pirate Alabama.

The Herald's New Orleans correspondence contains additional particulars of the negotiation for the surrender of Kirby Smith's entire trans-Mississippi rebel army. The meeting to arrange the preliminaries took place on the 23d ult: at the mouth of Red river, at which Col. Sprague presented Gen. Pope, and Col. Zymonski appeared on behalf of Gen. Smith; and these officers were to have auother conference at the red place of the result. e place on the 2d inst. Of the result this latter meeting nothing was known, at it was understood that the terms proposed were the same as those under which ee's and Johnston's armies surrendered. There were additional rumors in New ou the 30th uit, that the rebel Gens ick Taylor and Forrest had made formal ions to surrender their commands. Gon. Canby had left New Orleans sudden-ly for Mobile, and it was believed that he went to the latter city for the purpose of re-ceiving Taylor's surrender. Additional by the America.

discipline enabled them to take advantage of victory. Their cavalry, which at the prosperity beginning of the war was laughing stock in the world. or the Confederates, is now excellent, and hey know how to use it with effect, with he plentiful appliances of war with which Government has been furnished. The Southerners undertook a great enterprise and carried it out most skillfully and with wenderful audacity and obstinacy, but they were not enough for the work; they had genius and courage, but these have failed theu opposed by equal genius and courage, acked by superior numbers.

They may now accept the decision of war, which has been against them.

The Times, of Tuesday, says some piedge of submission to federation will probably be exacted as the condition to the exercise of political right, which of itself must disranchise many of the inhabitants of the South. Communities who have fought for secession must long remain what Ireland was to Euglaud—conquered dependencies, raled over by governors, or by a majority of their inhabitants.

The Times considering our finances, says the reply of Secretary McCullough to Mr. Currier's letter, justifies hopes that have been entertained of his usefulness in the office, and thinks the reply not faultiess but an enormous improvement on the manifestoes of his predecessors. It believes McCallough favors the English policy of free trade, because he sees in the freedom of international exchange more efficacious means to the enfranchisement of labor and multiplication of wealth.

The task now before the Government at The task now before the Government at Washington is one of the greatest difficulty that ever sell to a great people. It is no longer to conquer, to wear out, and to over whelm, but to win, to unite and to restore. The worst part of the difficulty consists in the national deficits, which themselves caused the rupture which war was too eerain to aggravate, and which triumph is tain to aggravate, and which triumph is not apt at once to remove. We know not where to look for that happy mixture of firmness, sagacity, tenderness and knowledge of mankind which is to heal the terrible way and rectard level. wounds of this war, and restore love between men, who have suffered and inflieted much frightful injuries; our only hope is that the occasion will calf into prominence men as well qualified for the work of peace as names unknown to fame have become glarious in this war. Since warriors have emerged, as it were from soil, so also a new race of wise and pacific statesmen may show themselves. tween men, who have suffered and inflieted show themselves.

The President is the very last man who night to indulge either in triumph or a wish for reveuge. As one father of a common country he must indeed be unworthy of his position if he does not wish to see all one again. The Union cannot be restored without complete reconciliation, and reconciliation must be founded on an oblivion of alleged of lenses and perfect quality as to the out complete reconciliation, and reconcilia-tion must be founded on an oblivion of ai-leged offenses and perfect equality as to the future. No citizen of the Union will take a sincere and cordial part in the solemn act of naturalizing foreigners and reconciliation, unless he sees before him a future that may retrieve the past so far as in the

The North may find it has to make a acrifice, even now in the bour of triumph in order to soothe animosities and repair injuries. It had better do it now in a spirit oncession than have to do it when the

of concession than have to do it when the grace of concession is gone.

The Daily News says the most honored and trusted of the Confederate leaders, who was appointed commander-in-chief of the whole armies of the Confederacy expressly that he might retrieve its fortunes and establish its independence, has laid down his arms. He fought gallantly while by fighting he could hope to achieve any practical result. To hold the capital, to save the army, or maintain the existence of the State when satisfied none of these objects could be served by prolonged resistance, he spared the useless effusion of blood in surrendering. He has adopted a course which indicates his opinion of the renewal of the whole conflict, not merely of the army under his immediate command, but the general issues.

The strongest feelings of sympathy and ndignation is universally expressed. There was but one voice throughout the country, and those who sympathize with the cause of the South evinced quite as much indignation as the warmest friends of the North. In ail places it was the ali-pervading topic and caused almost a total suspension of business, particularly in Liverpool and

NEW YORK, May 8.-The Times' Wash ington special says it ought to be under-stood that the recent proclamation offering rewards for the apprehension of Jeff. It was first unanimously decided in Cabinet meeting that all parties in any way connected with the conspiracy should be tried by military tribunal, and not by civil courts. All the testimony relating to the matter was then placed effective. lating to the matter was then placed offi-cially in the hands of the Judge Advocate General, Holt, who examined them very General, Holt, who examined them very carefully and made a written report to the Secretary of War, giving it as his official opinion that the evidence proved Davis to have been connected with the inception and execution of the plot. It was upon this official report that the proclamation was was based. It is not to be supposed that any direct and personal action in the matter can be traced to Davis, but it will be proved that the conspiracy was formed and prosecuted with his knowledge and assent.

The Minucoia, from Pittsburg, in attempting to land at the city wharf on Sunday evening got out on the reef of rocks at the head of the falis, where she stuck hard aground until yesterday about noon. She was lightened off by the Edinburg, and tug boat Walker Morris.

About five o'clock yesterday morning

eighteen or twenty of the fleet of coai boats moored at the foot of Saud Isand, oppo-site Portland, below the falls, were torn site Portland, below the rains, were form toose and floated off in a mass down the river. The high winds and rising river had chafed the liues of the boats until they parted, and the heavy mass, about haif a million bushels of coal, was at the mercy of the tide. Fortunately one of the New Albany ferryboats and two tugboats were started in pursuit of the runaway coal, and succeeded in arresting its progress within a few miles of New Albany, and landed the entire fleet in safety and without serious
